Thanks. If we could get a preview by early next week that would be great. Going live by the end of next week. The password sharing option sounds perfect.

Pat: is that consistent with what's been discussed between Linda and the DRA?

Hi Dean,

I will be getting this started for Jen since she'll be out of the office the next few days. I'll look over what you sent and get back to you with any questions.

Do you know when you expect the page will need to go live?

I can definitely share the pre-published page with you.

If you want people outside EPA to review it, I can request that it be password protected. Anyone who needs to review it will need to use the ID and password. When we're ready to publish, I can request that the password protection be removed.

Thank you,
Karen

Jennifer: here's the draft writeup for the Juneau County Groundwater Screening Investigation website. I'm also attaching the relevant files referenced on the site, including a data zip file that should remain in zip format for the public. We may add another couple maps before finalizing the site. I know in the past you would provide a link to review the website prior to making it public. Would we be able to share the initial link with our state counterparts as well, prior to making it live to the public? Give me a call if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Dean

Subject: Juneau County Groundwater Investigation Website

Jennifer/Karen: Water Division would like to set up a website for the Juneau County (WI) Groundwater Investigation. We will be posting sampling results once final. We expect to have all the data ready for posting by as early as the end of this week. I plan to draft a mock site today. Thanks.
